Haunting at Sycamore Lake

Investigated 1992-1995. Near Union City, in Randolph County, Indiana, a family was haunted by a poltergeist that locked doors, turned lights on/off, moved objects, made items disappear and reappear, opened/closed windows and doors, and made noises/ghostly footsteps.

Pioneer/Family Spirits

Investigated 2001-2003. Near Mooresville, in Morgan County, Indiana, ghosts/disembodied spirits dressed in 19th century clothing were seen by family members; the father had an out-of-body experience (OBE).

Investigated 1995-1998: Near Lafayette, in Tippecanoe County, Indiana, a family used a Ouija board to communicate with disembodied spirits who confirmed their identities as deceased relatives.

Haunted Library

Investigated 2012-2014. A Central Indiana ghost hunters group visited Mooresville Public Library (in Morgan County) to investigate the presence of disembodied spirits, ghosts, or poltergeists. In the basement, communication occurred using a flashlight, which dimmed in direct response to questions using a predetermined code. Objects moved by themselves, knocking was heard on walls and tables, direct voice & electronic voice phenomena occurred, computers turned themselves on and displayed images not in memory, electromagnetic anomalies & sudden temperature changes were detected. Over the years disembodied spirits/ghosts were seen by multiple staff and patrons.

Shelf Doll

Investigated 2003. A Morgan County family's home was haunted by the spirit of a deceased teen girl who "lived" inside a doll on a bedroom shelf. A Ouija board was used to communicate with the poltergeist, which moved objects, knocked picture frames from walls, overturned furniture, threw occupants from chairs, and moved dolls around the house.

Taking a "Stepp" Into the Unknown

Investigated 2014. Stepp Cemetery, in Indiana's Morgan/Monroe State Forest, ghosts/apparitions have been seen for decades, which moved objects (or made them disappear) left at gravesites. Learn more at <https://mplcatseyeview.blogspot.com/2014/09/taking-stepp-into-unknown.html>
